Description

This spacious Art Deco flat is sure to appeal to discerning purchasers seeking comfortable and easily maintained accommodation all on ground floor level with the benefit of a private garage. The property is rather special and provides a practical and versatile layout (111sqm) which provides ample storage space. There is a living room, separate dining room and a modern fitted kitchen with appliances. It has two double bedrooms, a third bedroom, modern shower room and two separate toilet compartments. The building forms part of one of three distinctive International Style blocks arranged in a butterfly plan (A-Listed) cleverly designed by Andrew Neil & Robert Hurd in 1935 -1936) and originally known as the Jenners flats.

Central Heating and Double Glazing

Gas central heating is operated by a boiler only installed in 2018, and is complemented by a gas fire and some UPVC double glazing.

Private Garage and Grounds

Number 34 has the benefit of a private end terraced brick-built garage having twin opening doors. The development is surrounded by attractive and beautifully manicured communal pleasure gardens offering outdoor space, a wealth of mature trees and parking for residents/visitors. There is also a rooftop terrace affording a stunning view across Edinburgh's skyline.

Proprietors' Association

The Proprietors' Association has engaged Trinity Factors and the monthly management cost is £290 which includes buildings insurance.

Location

Ravelston Garden enjoys a tranquil location in the highly regarded Ravelston Dykes residential district which is directly bounded by Craighleith.
